Dues Are Due!

Department Reports

Arts: Plans are under way for the club's entry in the July 4 People's Parade. Props symbolizing the six departments—such as an easel for the Arts Department, a beach ball globe for the International Affairs Department--will be displayed on a 17-foot trailer provided by Brenda Rice. Still needed: a green truck with a trailer hitch—can you help? And suggestions for department props are also needed. Contact Micki McDonald.

Micki's "heART" necklaces will be available for purchase at this fall's Mecca Festival as a fundraiser for the Arts Department's young people's projects.

"The Art of Words" project still needs poems by local authors.

Conservation: The Conservation Department will meet at 11:00 on June 6 at Janet Kiczek's Daylily Farm. Bring your own lunch and drink. Non-Conservation Department members are invited.

The Curtis Garden needs weed-pullers. Call Eleanor Hoomes at 854-8919 for directions.

Don't forget to keep a record of the time and the mileage you devote to picking up litter in your neighborhood during 2005. In January, awards will be made to the member who reports the most hours collecting litter and the member who logs the most miles.

Home Life: There will be a vote for Mother of the Year at the May general meeting. These are the requirements:

- a. Must be a mother, stepmother, foster mother, adoptive mother, etc.
- b. Must be a Club member in good standing
- c. Active in Club, community and other organizations
- d. Attends most meetings of her Department /Club
- e. Good attitude

These are the nominees:

Sara Dugan
Joy Gould
Karen Hartley
Martha Thurman
Nancy Tunnell
Clemmie Walker

International Affairs: In preparation for the August 16 picnic for UWG's international students, look through your cabinets and closets for household items you no longer use that could be donated to the University's "lending closet." Most international students arrive in Carrollton with little more than their clothing. Dishes, linens, and small appliances such as alarm clocks, lamps, coffee makers, and irons are a great help to them.

Public Affairs: In April 2,375 coupons worth $2,437.27 were mailed to COMFLEACT for military families overseas.

Please give names and addresses of soldiers in the Middle East to a member of Public Affairs so that the department can mail cards.

Sponsors for New Hope boys' haircuts and allowances are needed. According to staff at the Home, the state has discontinued funding these items. If you can help in this way, please contact one of the Friends of New Hope.

On May 28 at 1:00 p.m., Friends of New Hope Boys' Home will host a picnic at Lakeshore Park honoring New Hope's first high school graduate.

Ferst Foundation

Ferst Foundation volunteers report that they talked with many people at Mayfest and that registration is going well. Thanks to CCWC members Karen Hartley, Sandi Kopp, Martha Ann Saunders, and Martha Thurman for helping to man the booth.

Fundraising is also going well. Recent contributions include $1,000 from the Kiwanis Club and $10,000 from the Community Foundation.

Baby Think It Over

The babies are currently at Central Middle School's after-school program. Their next stop may be the Carrollton Housing Authority.

Pancake Ticket Sales

The CCWC raised $609 for the Club through ticket sales for Kiwanis pancake breakfasts.
